Hello, judges. My name is Art Vandelay. I am a 21-year-old student in the College of Commerce.

I'm currently studying for a bachelor's in international business. This program prepares students for the international labor market by helping them develop communication and management skills. I chose this major because I dream of working for a global company. I really want to see the world and challenge myself. After I graduate, I plan to work for a local import-export company. After gaining some valuable experience, I'll move on to a foreign company. By the time I'm 40, I'll be working as a purchasing manager for a major corporation like Amazon or Apple.

Outside of work, I enjoy learning about architecture. I've always been interested in architecture, but I lack the artistic skills to be good at it. So, I spend my free time reading books about architecture and visiting famous buildings around Taiwan. The National Taichung Theater is one of my favorites. Maybe one day I can improve my artistic skills and design my own buildings just for fun.

As for my family, I am the only son of two wonderful parents, Frank and Estelle. My mother is a homemaker, and my father is a haberdasher, that is, a suit salesman. He co-owns a men's clothing store in downtown Taichung. Growing up in Taichung with my parents has made me who I am today—a hardworking, creative, and curious person. I learned the value of hard work from my mother, who devoted herself to the care of her family. I learned how to be creative from my father, who often shared his designs for new suits. And from the City of Taichung, I learned to be curious and always keep my eyes open to the small wonders of the world.

I guess you could say that I am a dreamer. I think about what my life could be like and how wonderful things could be. But I am also a very practical person. I know that dreams don't come true on their own. You need to make plans and follow through. So, for the next four years, I'll be working hard to turn my dreams into reality. Thank you for listening.
